Colin & Alison Chattaway Plot 33

I love this plot, as well as being full of jealousy and envy as I am their neighbour. Former Chairman Colin and Alison Chattaway reap the rewards from all the hard work, dedication and love that they shower on their plot. I think this plot would give any plot a run for their money in any competition. A real credit to them both and close to post card perfect, while producing great crops. This has to be the plot to beat.
